

PUBLIC LEADER

THIRD YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, JANUARY 25, 1894.

ONE CENT.

IT'S SO IF IT'S IN THE LEDGER.

This year Easter comes on March 25th.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be with us next Monday.

Don't forget to see the great parade at noon Monday.

Return of the favorite "Just Landed" at the Opera-house to-morrow night.

This year's assessment at Robertson county was raised $39,640 by the Board of Supervisors.

Singers and public speakers find Ayer's Cherry Pectoral invaluable. It never fails to cleanse the throat and strengthen the voice.

DR. WILLIAM BOWMAN of the State of Lewis made an able minority report in the Gilliam-Folles contest; but what do facts or ability count for in a Democratic Kentucky Legislature?

BANK STOCK in Danville is "out of sight." A few days ago eleven shares in the Boyle Bank sold at $201; ten shares in the Farmers' Bank at $300 and ten shares in the Citizens' Bank at $194.

L. REPHA of Covington, who sued the C. and O. Bridge Company for damages to his property by reason of the smoke and soot and the jarring from passing trains, was given damage to the amount of $600.

MEETING at Mitchell's Chapel is increasing in interest. One convention and one addition last night. Bro. Robinson is doing not only good preaching but right preaching. Come and hear him he will do you good services. Close in plenty time for the street cars. Come.

A Heavy Dose. Frank Robinson will not again flourish a revolver around very soon.

He was before Judge Wadsworth yesterday on the charge of carrying concealed weapons and given a fine of $25 and costs and a sentence of ten days to serve in our cozy jail.

Moving Along. Charles Trapp of the firm of Davis & Trapp leaves the latter part next month for New York, where he will attend the great Mitchell Tailoring School and take a complete course in the Cutting Department.

During his absence their present store-room will be renovated and a choice line of gent's furnishing goods placed there in addition to the tailoring business.

Held Over. Joe Bode, charged with hog stealing, had a hearing in Judge Wadsworth's Court yesterday and bound over to Court in the sum of $100.

Bail was furnished by his mother and he was released.

The charge against Bode is a penitentiary offense and since the release of Dan Weaver, the accomplice, it places Bode in a very embarrassing predicament.

It's a Good Feature. An especially interesting feature of the "The Little Tycoon" Comic Opera Company this season is that part of the organization is a symphony quintette or orchestra which travels with the company. In that way the effectiveness of the general performance is considerably enhanced, and the embarrassing interruptions which are bound to occur when an insufficiently rehearsed local orchestra is employed in a comic opera are obviated. The leader of the orchestra is Fritz Gage, who was the leader of the orchestra in Philadelphia for two seasons, and whose familiarity with the music of "The Little Tycoon" is equalled only by that of the composer. "The Little Tycoon" will be sung at the Opera-house on the night of Tuesday, January 30th.

DR. SAMUEL S. WARDLE. His Death at His Home at Hartwell, O., Yesterday.

Dr. Samuel S. Wardle, for many years one of the most prominent dentists of Cincinnati, died at Hartwell yesterday.

He had been seriously ill for several weeks, and the end was not unexpected. As noted in yesterday's LEADER his son, Dr. C. W. Wardle of this city, had been summoned to his aid.

Dr. Wardle was a prominent Mason, Oddfellow and Grand Army man, and in these several Orders his wise counsel will be missed.

He leaves a widow, one daughter and three sons. During his frequent visits to this city he made many acquaintances, who will regret to hear of his death.

A. G. Carey was a visitor in Maysville Tuesday.

Ann Burgess has returned home from his Covington visit.

Mrs. G. W. Geisel is visiting her parents near New Harmony, O.

James H. Hall and son, Thomas Jackson Hall, left Tuesday morning for New Orleans.

A. A. Wadsworth, Jr., returned Tuesday from a visit to his friend, Champe Lee, at the "Palace in the Woods."

H. M. Cleso of Aberdeen was in the city yesterday en route to Ashland, where he will make a brief business visit.

Misses Ida Dudley and Bessie Fennell of Flemingsburg are the delightful guests of their cousin, Miss Marshall of "Cottage Cliff," Lewisburg.

Miss Elizabeth Bryant Johnston is being entertained at the charming and hospitable home of her cousins, Dr. and Mrs. John A. Reed of West Second street.

Dr. and Mrs. John A. Reed gave a dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Humphreys yesterday. It was a beautiful affair in every respect, much enjoyed by those present.

Do not fail to see the great bargains in Silver Spoons at P. J. Murphy's, the Jeweler; $4 and $5 for a set of Solid Silver Spoons, reduced from $5.50 and $6.50. Engraving free.

This persistent cough which usually follows an attack of the grip can be permanently cured by taking Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. O. S. McKeigh of McKay, O., says: "La grippe left me with a severe cough. After trying several different medicines without relief, I tried Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which effected a permanent cure. I have also found it to be without an equal for children, when troubled with colds or croup." Twenty-five and fifty-cent bottles for sale by John J. Reynolds, Druggist.

Merchants, Attention!

Please read THE LEADER'S proposition, under head of "Where to Deal," to be found in another column, and then have your name placed "on the list."

Where to Inquire. Persons desirous of joining the A. P. A., or those interested in the purposes of said organization, will please address Box 483, Maysville, Ky.

Are You Going? A number of invitations have been received in this city from the Joseph Donohue Camp No. 9, S. of V., U. S. A. of Augusta.

The invitations are very handsomely gotten up and indeed a beautiful one.

The Lodge will give a two days camp fire and ball, beginning to-morrow and running to Saturday evening.

BENJAMIN F. WILLIAMS. Resolutions of the Board of Trustees Upon His Retirement.

The following resolutions, which are self-explanatory, were adopted unanimously at a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Mayville Public Schools, MAYSVILLE, KY., Jan. 5th, 1894.

Whereas, Owing to sickness B. F. Williams, Principal of District School No. 3 of the city of Mayville, has found it necessary to resign his position, and whereas, this Board has deemed it expedient, though with much reluctance, to accept said resignation; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the most cordially assure him of our hearty appreciation of his earnest, conscientious and faithful services in the interest of our Public Schools, extending over a long period of time.

And while deeply sensible of the loss sustained by our Public Schools by the resignation of this gentleman, we extend to him our best wishes for a speedy restoration to health and for great future prosperity.

That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Board and that a copy be transmitted to Mr. Williams.

A Good Record. On the 19th of next month the order of Knights of Pythias will be thirty years old. From a nucleus of five members thirty years ago, they now have nearly 6,000 subordinate lodges, with more than 400,000 active and loyal members; over 1,200 divisions of Uniform Rank, with 50,000 uniformed followers, and about 1,800 sections of the endowment rank carry over $70,000,000 of insurance within their ranks.

Figuring It Out. The Winchester Democrat this week says it has been asked to answer the following question: "How many miles will the jaws of a man chewing gopher travel in the course of a year?" Giving her jaw a play of half an inch or one inch of travel for each chew, thirty chews a minute, sixty minutes an hour, ten hours a day, 365 days in a year, her jaws will have traveled 6,750,000 inches or a fraction over 103 miles.

Of course this answer applies only to our Mayville girls who have all small mouths. It will take a Winchester girl to break the above record.

Programme for To-night. The following programme will be given by Mrs. Johnston and friends to-night at Courthouse. Doors open at 7:30 p. m.; reading at 8:15 p. m.: Musical Offering. "O' Biddadilly's Christmas Gift." "At de Confrance." Miss Johnston Song. "Mrs. Robert Cummins." "A Shor' Nuf Case of Confusion." Miss Johnston Song. "Mrs. Robert Cummins." "My Little Boy." After a Decision. The cases of the state against the banks of the state is now under consideration by the Fiscal Court of the State at Frankfort. The decision of the case will not be made perhaps for several days. It is a matter of big interest to the banks as well as to the state, as if it should be decided that the Hewitt law is still in force as to them they will pay only 75 cents on every $100, and in this lieu of all other taxes. If the state wins the banks will pay just as individuals, and will have to pony up a good deal more than in the past, as they will also have to pay county and city tax in addition to 24 cents for state purposes.

William H. Harlan. Formerly of Ripley, O., Mysteriously Drowned in Colorado. The following is clipped from a Colorado paper. Mr. Harlan was a native of Ripley, being born in the Presbyterian Parsonage on Front street in that city. He left there when he was about 18 years of age. He was a brother of Mrs. Daniel Wallace, formerly of this place, and he was remembered probably by old citizens. He was 73 years of age. The paper says: "On the morning of New Year's Day a negro discovered floating in the lake near the site of Drew's mill an odd appearing object, which upon further examination was found to be the dead body of a man."

The coroner was notified, and after viewing the body he summoned a jury and an inquest was held which decided the following facts: From the appearance of the body it was evidently born in the winter for some days. The papers found upon his person revealed that his name was William H. Harlan and a resident of Denver, Colo. It seems that the deceased came with a view to making his future home, he having a brother, Jesse Harlan by name, who is the keeper of Hartman ferry, a few miles North.

"It seems that the deceased arrived here about the 24th or 30th of December, and soon after sought out his brother's whereabouts and after learning the same he kind and endeavored to cross the river to his home. This is the last definite information we have of him alive. When the body was found there was found a considerable amount of jewelry, among which was a cluster diamond ring set with a fine emerald. Rings were upon his fingers, and what is supposed to be a valuable stone in his pocket-book. He also had in his pocket-book five half-dollar gold pieces, a few dollars in silver and some promissory notes.

"From his brother, Jesse Harlan, we learn that he was expecting his brother William to visit him, but did not know exactly when he might come. "After Coroner Perkins had held an inquest the body was taken to the undertaking rooms of Messrs. George & Swift and afterwards buried in the corporation burying ground.

Commerce January 7th, 1894. C. and O. train a half past 10 p. m. regular at Dover, Ky., on Mondays and Saturdays only.

CHORONOW'S Denting cleanses and beautifies the teeth. Try it.

Now They've Got It. The Ripley Bo proudly state that the Council at its last meeting Friday night allowed a bill of $212, the last payment on their steam fire engine. The city is well supplied with fire extinguishers. Besides the steamer, which has two nozzles, they have two good hand engines as ever squirted streams.

A Good Thing. David's big three-car Uncle Tom's Cabin Company at the Opera-house January 25th is actually a $30,000 production of this grand old historical play—a magnificent scenic production. It requires a whole train load of four eighty-foot palaces cars to transport this mammoth spectacle; forty people; twenty ponies, donkeys and burros; eight official jobbers singers; a pack of man-eating Siberian and Cuban bloodhounds; Eva's golden chariot, a throne of silver, cost over $5,000; Uncle Tom and his typical Southern ox-cart. The grand free street parade ever witnessed. The sight of a lifetime.

A New Landlord. A new landlord has charge of the Sheridan House at Ironton, Landlord William Jones having yesterday disposed of his interest in the business of the house to Charles W. Bateman, one of the proprietors of the Aldine at Ashland. Mr. Bateman took charge yesterday morning and will dispose of his interests in the Aldine as soon as possible. He is in Bloomington, Ill., but has been in Ashland for the past two years.

Mr. Jones will leave in a few weeks for New York and in April will join Hunting's circus, with which he will travel as Treasurer, having made a contract some time ago.

Railroad Talk. "If times brighten up," remarked a railroad man to an Ironton reporter yesterday evening, "you may expect to see within two years, or three at the most, the C. and O. running trains through to Charleston, S. C., via the Three C's route. The O. and B. S. road up Big Sandy, owned by the C. and O., will be extended this summer from its present terminus at White House, just above Richardson, Ky., to the breaks of the Cumberland mountains, forty miles or more, and this part is now, I understand, under contract. The C. and O. will eventually have a line on both sides of the N. and W."

All Along the Line. It is heard press of Dr. Hale's Household Ointment. Mrs. J. S. Jacobs of Farmington, Maine, writes that she suffered five years with various pains and rheumatism on her leg, and was completely cured by its use. D. S. Filer, Salisbury, Vt., writes: "We cannot live without this ointment. My sister, who has asthma, at times suffers a turn or two of any kind almost instantly." Under date of May 30, 1893, R. H. Simpson, of New York, writes: "I used Hale's Ointment for rheumatism three years ago and have not been troubled since. It is the best ointment in the world for general use; 25c per bottle. For sale by Powers & Reynolds, Druggists."

THE CLEVELAND DEFICIT. A Reader Seeks Information as to Past Surpluses. A correspondent inquires of The New York Press:—

Sir: Did Mr. Cleveland accumulate a surplus of $100,000,000 during his first Administration, as Democrats claim? Did President Harrison's Administration spend this $200,000,000 and how? J. E. MACDONALD.

To which the Editor makes reply that President Cleveland did not accumulate the fortune of Croesus, and that the law of any description was passed during the four years of his first Administration. The Senate was Republican. Tariff smashing was impossible. In his messages to Congress Mr. Cleveland repeatedly urged that the Treasury surplus (which existed when he assumed office) was an injury and injustice to the people, who were "taxed" too much. Instead of using the surplus to reduce the National debt, President Cleveland loaned $100,000,000 to favored banks without interest. The Republicans were elected on a platform in 1888 which pledged the party to "reduce the National revenue." Faithful to this pledge, the next Republican Congress made sugar, like tea and coffee, free. This cut of $50,000,000 a year, benefited every consumer and injured none. The $100,000,000 was withdrawn from Mr. Cleveland's favored banks and used to reduce the National debt. The Republicans urged that the Treasury principal of the bonded debt was reduced $539,000,000 at a cost of $296,300,000, the premium paid for bonds being $37,000,000. The cost of the bonds at maturity would have been $351,600,000; thus the saving was $35,300,000. There was no Treasury deficit in reality until the prospect of early tariff revision created a tremendous shrinkage in imports and the "Cleveland panic," a heavy falling off in internal revenue receipts through the paralysis of business and the poverty of the people. Now the National debt is to be increased $50,000,000, with an early prospect of another $50,000,000, simply to meet the drain of the present Administration's tariff policy. His old friends will turn out in large numbers to hear Miss Johnston and Thursday night. The place of her birth is in the city of Dover, Ky., but because of old time's sake. Taken 30 cents.

HARD TO CONQUER.

There's the girl who's stuck on fencing, and the girl who's just coming to be somewhat interested in the art of self-defense.

There's the girl who's got a riding, and the girl who takes to striding over leagues of dale and moor with energy intense.

There's the girl who worships rowing, and the one who's fond of showing a marksmanship astounding in a person of her sex.

There's the girl who's always ready, with a nerve both true and steady, when woeful dangers threaten or difficulties vex; But despite the many carriage, and the open scene of marriage, which the little independent ladies seem to think so nice,

You may perhaps have noted that they're very seldom quoted as having lost completely their inherent fear of mice.
